

Arts, Culture and Heritage Award

Sue Tully

Sue Tully is the recipient of the 2022 Arts, Culture and Heritage Award. Known for her enthusiasm and kindness, Sue has been supporting community organizations through tireless volunteerism and substantial donations for more than 20 years.

Over the years she has served on multiple committees and boards. Her volunteerism has included organizations such as the Black Gold Quilt Patch Guild, the Leduc Public Library, the Maclab Centre for the Performing Arts, the Leduc Hospital Foundation, the Arts and Culture Society, the Creative Culture Connections program, the Leduc Arts Foundry, and many others. Sue is passionate about the arts and is currently a Leduc Arts Foundry board member. She also contributed generously to allow the Foundry to hire a full-time executive director. She hopes that they will soon be able to realize their vision of having their own building.

Sue values community and believes in the importance of giving back. She has helped shape Leduc into the city it is today, supporting community organizations by volunteering, helping them network and find resources, and spreading the word about events and opportunities. She is always the first to step up to offer her time and support.

Sue's positive energy and optimism make anything feel possible.
